Introducing Integrity Homes of Virginia at Embrey Mill in North Stafford, VA

New Integrity single-family homes at Embrey Mill are priced from $399,990

North Stafford, VA, September 27, 2013

Integrity Homes of Virginia, a local builder of the highest quality homes, is proud to announce the grand arrival of the all-new community Embrey Mill in North Stafford, Virginia. Opening in September, the new Integrity designs at Embrey Mill offer a range of historic architectural styles and are designed to highlight all that matters most to today's homeowners.

Embrey Mill is an 831-acre master-planned community committed to providing a simpler lifestyle and a focus on quality time with family and neighbors. Open spaces, trails, and parks weave throughout the community, while state-of-the-art facilities like the stunning Embrey House community center maximize convenience and comfort. This priority of satisfaction for homeowners is reflected in the community's choice of builders such as Integrity Homes.

"As a local builder, we're inspired by the region's rich heritage and landscape," said Bruce Gould, Principal at Integrity Homes. Adding, "We know our homes will be the perfect addition to Embrey Mill, and we're excited to get started."

When complete, Embrey Mill will feature 1,827 new homes and multiple civic and recreation centers, as well as over one-third open space including extensive public parks and 10 miles of trails. Embrey Mill is scheduled to open Summer 2013.

Integrity Homes is a local builder known for its award-winning architecture and design. With a focus on creating strong relationships, Integrity is true to its homes, ensuring that every inch is painstakingly crafted and inspected by expert hands; true to its vision, driven by passion that guides each decision made on every home; and above all, true to its homeowners, offering the kind of flexibility today's homebuyers are looking for in space and design.
